

Online Etiquette: Good online behaviour at the University of Law

To get the most out of online learning, you must be engaging with the discussion and activities in the teaching area and any social spaces where you meet other students. These spaces should be inclusive and make you feel safe, respected and build your sense of belonging with the learning communities.

Online Etiquette refers to good online behaviour rules when using digital devices such as desktop, laptops, mobile telephony, or tablets. Below we outline how we build and maintain this vibrant and

12. Keep camera adjustments to a minimum.

Now that you are ready to begin your online interaction ensure you apply the good online behaviour below

Version History

Version	Authored/Amended by	Date
V1.1	Director of Academic Enhancement	30.3.2020
V1.2	Director of Academic Enhancement and Director of Student Experience, Wellbeing and Inclusion	02.02.2021